

The Platform of “Women solidarity for Freedom”

The following platform is the fundamental guidance of “Women solidarity for Freedom” in attempt to unify all the freedom seeking women to fight against the anti-women’s regime of Islamic Republic of Iran, and at the same time tries to reflect the voices of working class women and all toiling women of Iran.

In order to reach our goals and objectives, we will embrace all those women, who are fighting to end the existence of oppression and tyranny against the women in our country, and we see ourselves along side of those who are fighting to destroy the foundation of social structure which re-constructs the inequality of women and men, and protects the patriarchal culture.

“Women solidarity for Freedom” belongs to all those women, which the following platform contains their core goals and principles, in order to fight oppression against women.

The revolutionary women’s movement in Iran has always been one of the forefront of people’s struggle against the ruling regime of Iran, which in recent years , under the rule of barbaric regime of Islamic Republic, which anti-women sentiment is its particular characteristics, has gone through tremendous development.

At the present time, while the struggle of Iranian women for their basic human rights accelerates, while the Islamic regime and the imperialist powers in order to deviate this movement from its revolutionary path, are trying every effort to derail the women's movement, therefore it is now more than any other time its necessary, to resonance the revolutionary voice of working class women and all tolling women of Iran, which means the majority of Iranian women in democratic – anti- imperialist movement “Women solidarity for Freedom” was established with the aim to be the voice of their struggle to gain their crushed rights and fight for their freedom.

“Women solidarity for Freedom” as a democratic unification was created with the conviction that only a unified and structured struggle could materialize the justified and revolutionary rights of women.

“Women solidarity for Freedom”, considers women's movement as part of the revolutionary and democratic struggle in the course to over throw the existing reactionary regime in Iran, and its capitalistic structure along with its imperialist allies, and believes that only through solidarity and alliance with other social struggles (worker, students, and oppressed masses), women's movement can accelerate and become victorious. Only unification through a revolutionary path can liberate the whole society from any form of exploitation and oppression.

“Women solidarity for freedom” aims to unite all revolutionary women, whom despite having diverse opinion on various social issues, when it comes to women's movement pursue radical and genuine revolutionary line.

“Women solidarity for freedom” is where women activists, with conviction in equality of women and men as free human, fights for society with true democratic structure, a society that can guaranty women's freedom from class slavery and free from any form of poverty, and gender exploitation and The patriarchal culture.

“Women solidarity for freedom” is the voice of radical and consciences women; with certainty that Islamic Republic is the main obstacle to achieve women's liberation, even the demands for legal rights of equality with men, and sees the struggle to realize their just rights, through struggle to overthrow the Regime of Islamic Republic and to demolish the core roots of the cause of all current hardship and poverty and inequalities, which in term means the destruction of capitalist dependent regime of Iran.

“Women solidarity for freedom” believes that the final liberation of women can only be achieved with destruction of class society and establishment of socialism; never the less, the struggle to gain the democratic rights can not be post poned to the future. It is for this very reason, that we fight for materializing the just demands of Iranian women, and support all the revolutionary movements in the path of realization for their basic rights.

“Women solidarity for freedom” event though we full heartedly support the struggle of Iranian women against the anti-women laws of Islamic Republic, but at the same time categorically draw our boundaries with those who are trying to misguide people by pretending that it is possible to materialize these rights within the frame work of Islamic Republic government.

“Women solidarity for freedom” believes that realization of the just demands of women is not contingent on imperialist’s powers or any of the fraction or the reformists within the Iranian government. Those who under pre-text of supporting the women are trying to take advantage of them and to destroy the revolutionary potential of this massive force in order to use the women’s movement for their despicable compromises with reactionaries and exploiters.

“Women solidarity for freedom” while continually fighting against patriarchal mentality and culture, firmly separates its line with feminists tendencies whom instead of aiming against the class society as the major enemy, rather perceive the men as their enemy and the main source of oppression on women.
